

RAID ON UNION AFTER ACID WAR

GERMANY ASKS U.S. TO RETURN WAR PROPERTY

Decision to Rest in Congress.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—Count Ago von Maltzan, German ambassador to the United States, delivered to Secretary of State a note from the Berlin government formally asking for the return of German properties now in the custody of the alien property custodian.

The action of the German government came as no surprise to officials here who have been expected to recover possession of these properties. This is the first time that a formal request has been submitted to the government.

Will Open Claim Issue.

Germany's demand promises to reopen the whole complicated and difficult problem involving the collection of American debts from Germany for damages sustained by American citizens during the war, including the collection of the costs of maintaining the American army on the Rhine, and the relationship which exists between Germany's obligations to the United States and the return of German property in the hands of the alien property custodian.

The German note raises a complicated matter for the state department to handle. The value of the seized German property is estimated at about $100,000,000. It was seized by act of congress and congress has stipulated that it can be disposed of only under congressional authority.

Must Wait for Congress.

For this reason, the hands of the state department are tied. The note is in the hands of the state department in reply to Berlin will find itself compelled to state that it is without legal authority to direct the alien property custodian to part with any of the property until congress convenes.

While serious consideration has been given by the executive branch to the question of ultimate disposition of this property no concrete plan has been worked out, and congress has taken no action in the direction of permitting the property pending payment by Germany of American claims.

DEMANDS COLONIES

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Berlin, Aug. 12.—Germany will demand mandates over at least a part of the former colonies when she enters the league of nations, Foreign Minister Stresemann indicated today in answer to attacks in the reichstag which call for the return of German colonies.

Stresemann outlined the difficult task of recovering world markets.

Return of Colonies.

"Our right to have colonies is a matter of state that the first time the question of our entering the league of nations was debated Germany took the stand that as long as the league did not fully civilized nations have the right to control the less progressive nations the Germans have the right to demand among the civilized nations. On this point, too, Germany demands full equality and rights."

The trade agreement with the United States was easily carried in the reichstag in the third reading.

New customs duties were imposed on the reichstag only after a severe fight in which Socialists and communists left the hall and refused to vote on duties imposed on grain, meat and other foods.

The new duties, which will go into effect on Oct. 1, are largely protective.

Auto Import Ban.

The chief interest of the United States in the new automobile bill is the new automobile bill. The old restrictions against the import of foreign cars are lifted. The bill is retrogressive, starting with $100 a hundred kilograms (a kilo is 2.2 pounds) until July 1, 1926, and reducing every six months to $50, $30, $20, and finally $10—where it will remain from July 1, 1927, until further tax legislation.

The tax on wheat, which aroused the ire of the communists and Socialists, is reduced to 55 cents on 100 kilos; oats to 17.12 cents; and corn, 48 cents. The American motor car is greatly increased trade as soon as these restrictions here are lifted.

In the end of the session the reichstag adjourned until November.

SCOTT DIVORCE SLEUTH BARES KEYHOLE SPYING

Both Deny Charges of Misconduct.

BY ORVILLE DWYER
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The Scott divorce case today proceeded with its revelations of scandal in Washington. While the sensational forecast by remarks made before the hearing began yesterday did not materialize in full, there was plenty to disclose the gay and spirituous adventures of dry congressmen and their wine and gin parties in the capital's fashionable hotels.

And a keyhole haunting detective also added to the day's spicy testimony.

As court closed tonight both Representative Frank D. Scott and his wife, Edna James Scott, had practically concluded their cases and it seemed certain that some time tomorrow will find the decision resting in the hands of Circuit Judge Frank E. Meritt who under the Michigan law, is sitting in chancery to hear the testimony.

One Spies Story Told.

During the session today only one startling picture was presented to the court—that of a member of the house of representatives lying in bed with his secretary, eating strawberries out of season. This came from a former hotel house detective who may have observed it through a keyhole, who did not even say whether the secretary was a man or a woman, although the inference was that she was both young and beautiful.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Scott took the stand today and both denied charges of misconduct.

New sensations which were expected from Mrs. Scott, who was to have disclosed them out of a thick scrapbook, failed to develop. She was on the stand only a short while when her attorney, Ward H. Peck, suddenly rested his case and turned the witness over for cross-examination to Attorney Irvin S. Canfield, representing Scott. So she never referred to the book supposed to be filled with social T. N. T.

Name Two Congressmen.

And although two new names were added to the congressional personnel of this case whose revelations have caused apprehension in official and social Washington, they came out in rather a vague form and with no great significance.

No great significance excepting that the testimony about the representative with the delectable secretary and the wintertime strawberries, which does not accuse them of a thing.

The two new names mentioned were William D. Upshaw of Georgia, militant dry of the house, and James M. Mead of a Buffalo (N. Y.) district.

Jazbo Named Again.

In her cross-examination Mrs. Scott's alleged affairs with Harry Wyoff, handsome cashier at the fashionable Waldorf Park hotel, where the Scotts lived, were brought up again, as also were her episodes with the fascinating army captain, Wilbur Sumner, popularly known as "Jazbo."

The episode of the congressman, secretary, and strawberries came out of the deposition of Fred V. Sykes, who was house detective of the Lee house, Washington, where Mrs. Scott lived during parts of 1923-24 after she and her husband had separated. Scott left his wife on Christmas eve of 1922.

Sykes was called by Mr. Scott and he testified of liquor parties in Mrs. Scott's room and told of her friendship for Gilbert Bensinger, who he characterized as a bootlegger.

Delivered Ginger Ale.

It was under the cross-examination of Sykes that the strawberry incident was mentioned. Sykes had told Attorney Peck, under close questioning, of several visits to Mrs. Scott's room. He said he went there one time to take her newspapers, still again to take her newspapers, on another occasion to deliver some ginger ale. He said she had loaned him a book—a congressional directory.

"You wanted to look up some congressman?" Attorney Peck asked. And Sykes replied: "I desired to look up several of them."

"But there was one congressman in particular on this floor that you wanted to look up?"

"No, sir."

"He was on the third floor then, do you remember that? A-I-I was looking up several of them. I did want to look up several people, a couple of them from my home town—I hadn't been home in seven years—to see how they were getting on."

OUR LAST LINE OF DEFENSE

CALLES ARRESTS BOLO CHIEFS IN MEXICAN CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mexico City, Aug. 12.—C. B. Mendoza, secretary of the textile branch of the general federation of labor, a Red organization, was arrested today in connection with the strike of La Perfeccionadora factory here. Several members of the Red committee were arrested with Mendoza. The arrest caused intense excitement in Red circles. Red leaders and workers are visiting factories in the city and federal district to incite the workers to call a general strike tomorrow.

The Reds assert that if they are not released tonight, they will call a strike first for the federal district and later for the whole republic.

The government and the Mexican federation of labor oppose the strike move of the Reds, who have become active lately to the detriment of numerous business establishments, especially bakeries. Many owners are threatening to close their establishments if relief is not forthcoming against unjust strikes and exorbitant wage demands.

"Get out and walk ten paces back from the post and drop the money. Drive away. If you don't do this we will get your boy."

Threats were added that if he brought police with him his child would suffer all the same, as there were many in the gang.

Mr. Hirschbein, accompanied by officers hidden in his automobile, followed the instructions, carefully, and kept the rendezvous as directed. After remaining from midnight until 2:30 a. m., when a torrent of rain descended on the city, the father and officers gave up the quest, convinced that the kidnappers had not appeared. Cops Set Trap After Threats to Steal Boy

Threatened last night for the second time with the kidnapping of his son, Joseph, 10 years old, unless he took a ransom of $5,000 for the boy to be kidnapped, M. L. Hirschbein, a well-to-do real estate and loan broker, appealed to Hyde Park police.

When his story was told, a squad was sent to Cottage Grove avenue and 91st street, near the Illinois Central tracks, where Hirschbein was ordered to "drop a package containing the money in bank notes. It is an unrequited part of the city, near railroad lines which might be available for use in escaping."

I. Newton Perry, Chicago bond dealer residing in Lake Forest, will appear in the state court of Porter county, Indiana, next September to answer charges of violating the new Wright anti-liquor law.

This is an outcome of the arrest of Mr. Perry by a federal dry agent on July 26 on a charge of having three pints of whiskey in his automobile as he was motoring from Chicago via the Hoosier state to his summer home near Holland, Mich. That charge was later dismissed, the United States dry authorities here disclaiming jurisdiction over the Indiana area.

Indiana Gets Busy.

But Indiana was not satisfied. Its own law has teeth even sharper than Volstead's. So for a fortnight Indiana has been taking steps toward the prosecution of Mr. Perry, who had been released by Uncle Sam.

Mr. Perry drove to Valparaiso yesterday and voluntarily surrendered himself, giving bond for his appearance in the sum of $3,000. If tried and found guilty, his punishment, under the terms of the Hoosier statute, will be a fine of from $100 to $500.

It was only Tuesday, upon his return from an out of town trip, that Mr. Perry learned the "hot" plan had been filed against him in Indiana," said Walter B. Wolf, the broker's attorney, last night. "As he is a law abiding American citizen, he chose to give himself up rather than cause interstate complication through extradition proceedings."

Will Fight it to Finish.

The defense would be Mr. Wolf declined to say, but intimated that the case would be fought through to a finish. His client is not a bootlegger, Mr. Wolf said, and although the search of Mr. Perry's car and his arrest were, in his opinion, unprecedented and unjust, Mr. Perry "has no desire to escape any lawful procedure that may be taken."

Following his arrest by Federal Agent Joseph Allie of Chicago, Mr. Perry was brought on Aug. 4, before United States Commissioner James R. Glass who discharged him because the arrest was made outside this federal district, and he had no jurisdiction.

Allie Is Uncompromising.

Allie, it latterly develops, also filed charges in the Indiana state court on July 27, being determined to prosecute the broker in one place or the other. It was rumored that Allie would send Sheriff William Forney to Chicago yesterday with warrants for Mr. Perry's arrest. This was denied last night by Mr. Wolf, who said that his client had not even heard of the action against him at Valparaiso until he arrived in Chicago on Tuesday.

GIRL, 16, MISSING THREE MONTHS, FOUND IN HOTEL

Ruth Helen Gronert, 16 years old, who has been missing from her home, 224 West 64th street, since May 24, was found yesterday at the Myland hotel, 22d street and Michigan avenue. Police are working on the theory that she may have been the victim of white slaves. They arrested two men in connection with the case, whose names they refused to divulge.

The parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. William Gronert, have been constantly searching for their missing daughter since her disappearance. They received information yesterday that a girl resembling the missing girl had been seen at the Myland hotel. Policewomen Oliver and Goddard investigated and found her in a room with two men. The girl was returned to her home and police began an investigation as to how the girl came to be at the hotel.

At the time of her disappearance it was said she had been often in company with a black and tan district character.

Ventura Is Shaken.

the same license number has been issued to Herbert Eisenhauer, an official of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' union.

Joseph Hlavaty, whose tailor shop at 2464 Euclid avenue, Berwyn, was also bombed yesterday, pointed out De Rosa as one of the six men who attacked him in his shop on July 16. He said the union delegation demanded that he join and when he refused one of the men drew a revolver and fired twice. One shot glanced off the back of his head, he said, while the second lodged in his left leg.

Denies Owning a Gun.

Questioned about the shooting, De Rosa said he never owned a gun. Lieut. Grady went to his home at 1420 Spruce street and on the pretense that De Rosa had sent him asked Mrs. De Rosa for the revolver. She handed the police lieutenant a .32 caliber automatic. Hlavaty said he had been shot with the same brand of gun.

One tailor shop after another was visited on the west side by vandals yesterday. The police believe some visits were not reported through fear of a reprisal.

The first visit was made to the tailor shop owned by E. J. Van Seck, 1209 South Paulina street. Employees and owner were lined against the wall at the points of revolvers and the clothing stocks saturated with acid.

Paul Kapl, 600 Blue Island avenue, reported a similar raid to the police. He said clothing and materials valued at $5,000 were ruined with acid.

The latest vandalism was reported from Waukegan, where two armed men entered the Goldstein plant and while one compelled the employees to place the wall the other went through the place waving a revolver and pouring acid from a quart bottle on the stocks. The goods, said to be worth $10,000, were ruined.

Officials of the Goldstein firm expected some disturbance, it was said, because they have refused to deal with the garment workers' union. They had a police detail on guard until yesterday morning. Believing that no one would attempt to enter the plant during the day, the police were relieved early yesterday.

The two men escaped in a powerful automobile which had been left on the nearby roadway facing south. It is believed that both men came from Chicago.

Arrest Alleged "Brains" of Gang.

Sidney Rissman, believed by police to be the "brains" of the sluggers, was arrested last night at the detective bureau when he went there to attempt to arrange bail for some of the men arrested in the raid on the union's headquarters yesterday afternoon.

Goldstein named him as the man who threatened him three years ago unless he joined the garment workers' union. According to the police, Rissman is assistant secretary of the union and they believe he planned the acid throwing.

Frank P. Fowler, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Waukegan; Sheriff Edward Ahlstrom of Lake county, and Capt. E. Kennedy of the Waukegan police visited the detective bureau and notified Acting Chief of Detectives John Stege that at a meeting held in Waukegan it was voted to offer a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of any one connected with the destroying of the merchandise in Goldstein's shop.

Capt. Stege last night sent out an order to all stations to arrest Anthony [Tony] Kissane in connection with the recent bombing of three tire repair shops. Kissane, who is a well known police character, has been implicated in several gangland murders. He has now become interested in the welfare of trade unions, and is organizing the tire repairers' union as his introduction as a labor leader.

THE BELOVED MELON

The watermelon is indigenous to Africa where it is very highly appreciated.

Not only by man, but also by elephants and lions and a host of smaller creatures.

Who, at every opportunity, give practical demonstration of their enjoyment of it.

For man, however, is reserved the exquisite pleasure of eating the watermelon ice-cold.

On a midsummer's day it is as delightfully refreshing as a draught from a crystal spring.

HUNT EX-USHER AND 2 OTHERS IN THEATER HOLDUP

Police Get New Tips on Fifth Drake Bandit.

Police last night developed clues which may lead to a solution of the spectacular holdup of the State-Lake theater last Sunday night and to the capture of William Melnechuck, the only one of the Drake holdup bandits still at large. The information concerning Melnechuck came from two divorces and another woman, and that concerning the State-Lake holdup involved a woman.

Fred Walters, former head usher at the State-Lake theater; Mabel Harris, 910 Galt avenue, former drug store clerk, and an unnamed confederate were sought by detectives as the principals in the $12,000 holdup of the theater.

Believe Ex-Usher Planned It.

Walters is said to have planned the holdup, with his knowledge of the theater, the actual robbery being executed by the unnamed confederate. Capt. Stege of the detective bureau showed that police investigation early showed an "insider" had planned the robbery.

Walters quarreled with his wife some time ago, police said, and had one to live at the same address as the Harris woman.

Seven persons were in the tiny office of the manager when the robbery was committed Sunday night. The day's receipts at the time being counted by the treasurer.

Trace Car in Which Bandit Fled.

Tracing an automobile bearing a Missouri license and believed to have been used in the escape of Melnechuck, Lieut. Edward Kelley last night got results that may lead to the arrest of the fugitive.

Kelley found the car at 744 North Michigan avenue. He also found the owner, Lillian Sherwood, 20, who lives at 743 North Michigan avenue.

Taken into custody, the girl admitted that she met Melnechuck after the robbery.

"Yes," she said, "I met Melnechuck at about 5 o'clock in front of 4921 Winthrop avenue. I drove him to the Sherwood restaurant, 1056 Argyle street, where we had dinner. I then took him to 5208 Winthrop avenue, where Jack Woods lived. He left me there and I have not heard from him since. He promised to keep in touch with me."

A waitress at the restaurant observed Melnechuck's nervousness during the meal and suspected he had committed a crime, it was learned last night. She telephoned Lieut. Kelly then, but when the police arrived at the restaurant the couple had driven away.

The waitress got the license number and furnished it to the police. The waitress' name was withheld by the police.

Ruth York, chum of the Sherwood girl and sweetheart of Woods, was also arrested.

Questioned by State's Attorney John Sharrar, the York girl said: "When Lillian came home on the night of the robbery she seemed excited. She told me that something had happened to Melnechuck and that she had taken him to his destination and bought him a shirt and a sweater."

Call Each Other Liar.

The Sherwood girl denied her friend's story and the two clashed each

Business Good, and Getting Better, Merchants of U. S. Say

Business is good and is going to be better.

So said the 1,200 members of the Interstate Merchants' council yesterday as they settled down in Chicago for a three day convention.

So said, in particular, John W. O'Leary, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and vice president of the Chicago Trust company, last night at an entertainment session at the Rainbo Garden. He addressed the members of the council after an all afternoon meeting at the Congress hotel that was full of predictions for national prosperity.

Receives From 1924 Blues.

Mr. O'Leary struck the note of optimism when he declared that the ghost of bad business which still stalked in 1924 had been laid. He said the growing feeling of prosperity had taken on definite form.

"Those who once doubted, today are encouraged," he said. "The assurance of generally satisfactory business conditions is demonstrated through the latest crop reports and the prices prevailing for soil products. The tendency toward the extreme of extravagance or the unwisdom of complete stoppage of purchase is giving way to a spirit of intelligent purchases."

Taught to Avoid Wage Cuts.

He said that self-analysis by business has enabled the country to maintain high living standards. Instead of cutting wages the first thing, he declared, modern business methods have taught industry to cut costs and improve methods first, and leave wages high until the last ditch is reached.

"Fundamental business conditions are good in the United States," he proclaimed. "We have a government which is striving to let business correct its own troubles. The federal trade commission has returned to early principles of operation and under present rules should be of help, as it was intended to be. Trade associations are now encouraged by recent court decisions."

calling the other a liar. The Sherwood girl denied she had any knowledge that there had been a robbery until after she parted from Melnechuck.

Five detectives are leaving Chicago this morning for points, where, according to the two girls, Melnechuck may be in hiding.

The girls came to Chicago about five weeks ago.

NEGRO IS GUILTY OF ATTACK; GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Judge Congratulates Jury Which Convicts Grant.

For the first time in the history of Cook county, according to available records, a jury imposed a life sentence for rape when twelve men in Chief Justice Jacob Hopkins' court left the jury box just long enough yesterday afternoon to sign a verdict finding James Grant, colored, guilty of attacking Mrs. Frances Hackett in her home, 828 Prairie avenue, in the early morning of June 8.

Assistant State's Attorney Rudolph Shaprio pointed out that this is the first time, so far as the records show, that a man convicted of rape has been given the maximum sentence by a jury. Once, the statistics show, a man was sentenced to life for rape on a plea of guilty.

"I congratulate you, gentlemen, on your verdict," Judge Hopkins said to the jury when the verdict had been read.

"I have been on the bench fifteen years," the chief justice later declared, "and I've seen some pretty bad cases. But never in all those years have I heard a story such as this one that poor woman told from the stand in this prosecution."

Woman Does Not Hear Verdict.

Mrs. Hackett was not in the court to hear the verdict which set a precedent in Cook county and brought to her the only bit of recompense she could get.

She lay over on a cot at St. Luke's hospital, tossing about and screaming, "Kill him; kill him." In an agony of delirium caused by the scene in court yesterday morning.

For yesterday morning Grant took the stand and denied every detail of the story Mrs. Hackett told Tuesday, with a completeness that caused her to faint on the stand. Following Grant's denial, Attorney Arnold Ehrlich, his counsel, argued that "that woman's story didn't ring true."

Yells "Kill Him."

At that Mrs. Hackett, still nervous from the ordeal of testifying, stumbled across the court room, hurled a newspaper over at Grant and in a frenzy yelled, "Kill him, kill him."

Her husband, from out in the corridor, heard her sobs and rushed in. He learned what the lawyer had said and bailiffs restrained him from throwing himself upon the attorney.

By this time the whole courtroom was in an uproar. More than a dozen of women, neighbors of the Hacketts, including four women who had themselves been menaced by the Negro, grew excited. Judge Hopkins commanded quiet; the husband was restrained, and the woman, still prostrated, was taken to the hospital.

Warns Against Disturbance.

Anticipating a demonstration when the verdict was returned yesterday afternoon, Judge Hopkins warned the spectators against making any disturbance. The twelve men filed in, the clerk read the verdict; the jury was polled. As it came the turn for each man to say whether or not "that was and is my verdict" he gave it emphatically.

The judge congratulated them on doing their duty. Then the spectators gathered about Prosecutor Shaprio, who had secured the conviction, shook his hand and praised his prosecution of the case.

Calls Case "Dreadful."

"I've been an assistant in the state's attorney's office for more than four years," Mr. Shaprio said, "and I have never heard of any case, nor expect to hear of any case, so dreadful as this."

Entering the bathroom window of their apartment on the morning of June 8, Grant, according to Mrs. Hackett's story, forced Hackett into a clothes closet. Grant then took Mrs. Hackett into the living room, a few feet from the bedroom of her three little children, and held her prisoner for eight hours.

While progress has been made, it is admitted that there is still a difference of opinion over the pact itself. These differences in character, being Great Britain and France, Germany, and Great Britain many.

The French are insisting that their hegemony over Europe should be maintained. They are not only the present master of France but the master of Germany as well. Great Britain is willing to accept more particularly as she can sell her position as protector of Germany.

London is unwilling, however, to sign a blank check for Germany's eastern frontier. Germany herself, as the present situation is full of and injustices, such as the Danzig and the Silesian partition.

Wants to Keep Bayonet

Germany is willing to accept which preserves the western as it is, but it claims the right of revision of its eastern frontier. However, France, following the revision of Germany's eastern frontier, has come to the defense of Czech and Poland, which are her satellites.

Should war occur between Germany and France, for instance, an attack Germany in aid of France would be a war of self-defense. Another contingency would be Poland and Russia. France would claim the right to revise Germany's eastern frontier. Germany is not willing to do this on the price of this concession.

FRANCO-BRITISH ACCORD REACHED ON GERMAN NOTE

Will Speed Up Parleys on Security Pact.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Aug. 12.—The conference between Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, and Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, ended today. A complete agreement was reached on the text of the reply to Germany's last note on a European security pact proposal.

M. Briand will return to Paris tomorrow morning. He professes to be entirely satisfied with the results of the conference.

The Tribune, however, understands that he has not accomplished as much as he had hoped and much work is yet to be done before the British and French views on the European situation are reconciled. Furthermore, M. Briand was disappointed in his hope to be able to talk to the British, it is learned that he tried to raise the question, but Mr. Chamberlain insisted on keeping the discussion to security for which the conference was arranged.

It is understood also that a luncheon today given by M. Briand to Mr. Chamberlain, but it stated that the debt question was not mentioned.

Eliminate Bitterness in Note.

So far as the note to Germany was concerned, however, substantial progress was made. The British succeeded in tempering the acerbities of the French draft and the note, as it will be dispatched, is in a cordial tone, calculated to smooth away many difficulties. It is very brief and besides dealing with few specific points suggests that the time has come to cease letter writing and to get down to business.

The text will not be made public until after it is delivered to Berlin and before that it will be submitted to Belgium, Italy and Japan for approval. It is understood also that a copy will be sent to Washington for "personal information."

The personal conversations which will succeed the note writing will not, it is understood, be in the exact place among the foreign ministers. They will be through the ambassadors and the foreign offices, the object being to inform Germany as to the exact position of Great Britain and France on the peace pact and to learn the exact attitude of Germany, thus smoothing out differences and preparing the ground for a final talk among the foreign ministers, which may occur at or near Geneva, coincident with the league of nations meeting in September.

Still Differences Over Pact.

While progress has been made, it is admitted that there is still a wide divergence of opinion over the terms of the pact itself. These differences are triple in character. Belgium, France and Great Britain and France, Germany and Great Britain and France.

The French are insisting on maintaining their hegemony over Europe and demand that Great Britain guarantee not only the present eastern frontier of France but the eastern frontier of Germany as well. The French revision of the pact is willing enough to do so, more particularly as she considers herself now effectively bound to do so by her position as protector of Belgium. The French frontier the war would be fought again in Belgium and Great Britain would be drawn in again as before.

London is unwilling, however, to sign a blank check for safeguarding Germany's eastern frontier against Germany herself, as it realizes the present situation is full of anomalies and injustices, such as the Danzig corridor and the Silesian partition.

Wants to Keep Bayonet Ring.

Germany is willing to enter a pact which preserves the western frontier as it is, but it claims the right to future revision of its eastern frontier. However, France, following her policy of ringing Germany around with a wall of bayonets, has committed herself to the defense of the status quo in Poland, which are her military satellites.

Should war occur between Poland and Germany, for instance, and France attack Germany in aid of her ally, Great Britain has no wish to bind herself automatically to enter this war. Another contingency is war between Poland and Germany, when Germany would claim the right to march through Germany to aid Poland. Germany is not willing to concede this right and Great Britain is not willing to limit on this concession by Germany as the price of the pact.

Policemen took Mrs. Gerardi to the Mother Cabrini hospital, where a bullet was taken from her leg. Mrs. Delella was taken to the Maxwell street station, and a search started for the son, who had disappeared.

The quarrel is said to have started yesterday when Mrs. Delella's children refused to stop skipping the rope in a passageway running between the two houses.

BROTHER SUES "KID" WEIL TO COLLECT NOTES

Trusts Kin, but Is Taking
No Chance.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
Like Weil, personal bailiff of Judge Joseph B. David, may not be his brother's keeper; but neither does he want his brother, "Yellow Kid" Weil, the boy orator of many a county, state and federal court, to be his banker. Not when the "Yellow Kid" for all his friendly feelings, gives his own baby brother out of something like $2,500.

So Ike, obeying the dictates of his depleted pocketbook rather than the guidings of his benign heart, yesterday brought suit in the Superior court, through Attorney James J. Glassner, against big brother, "Yellow Kid," to collect two promissory notes totaling $2,500 and dated May 22, 1925, and payable the first of last June.

Not Money, but Principle.

It's not the money so much as the principle of it, Ike pointed out yesterday. Although he reflected, the money's an item, too, if you look at it that way.

It was of a gentle spring day last year, as Ike Weil remembers it, and he should remember that the "Yellow Kid" with tears in those kind eyes of his, and a quiver in that persuasive voice of his, confided to his brother that he was on the verge of going broke.

That is, unless somebody could produce $2,500.

Now, Ike knew the "Yellow Kid" like a brother. And he knew that ever since nursery days that nimble tongue of his had been able to sell building lots ten thousand leagues under the sea.

But I figured he'd be off his nut to try to beat me out of any dough. I thought he'd be square with me, no matter what happened."

How Deal Was Closed.

The "Yellow Kid" was talking, that spring afternoon, and Ike, the bailiff, was listening. A plausible story it was. The "Yellow Kid," offered brother an assignment on the rent of his apartment at 7231 Lakeside terrace. In return he was to receive the $2,500 which was to put him on his feet and stop his tears.

Only a few days later, however, Ike learned that while negotiating the loan from him, his brother had arranged the sale of the property and the new owner entered claims for the rent. Ike called on his brother to explain. The "Yellow Kid" was touched and grieved at such fraternal doubt. But he was gracious about it.

"Any one would have believed his story," and there was a trace of family pride in the glib brother's voice.

"He told me he had an opportunity to sell at a good profit and intended to give me notes to secure the loan. But he'd been so busy he simply hadn't got around to it."

Kid Avoids Brother.

But when the matter was called to his attention, the kid, with only a few more speeches, attended to it and gave the notes, on the 23d of May, payable eight days later. That was when, he said, he was to collect the money on the sale of the Lakeside terrace apartments.

But ever since that day he touched the golden voice had adroitly avoided the brother with the trusting heart. Hence the court suit.

"Now, I know he's my brother and all that," Ike explained, and in a burst of righteous indignation, "but I can't afford to let that $2,500 get away."

Then, in a postscript:

"But, still, I don't believe he really intends to beat me out of that money."

Camp Salutes Dawes

Vice President Dawes was the guest of Camp Roosevelt yesterday, receiving the vice presidential salute of 19 guns when he entered Fort Sheridan. The visit of his party, which included Mrs. Dawes, was the event of the camp season, which is in its final week. The Vice President dined in the mess hall with the high school cadets and reviewed them later at retreat.

FOXHOUNDS SHOT FOR CRIME THEY DID NOT COMMIT

Springfield, Ky., Aug. 12.—(Special.)—There is sorrow tonight in the fox hunting set here and throughout the state where the dogs of J. F. Bishop and Herbert Edlmann were last known. The five hounds belonging to Bishop and Edlmann and valued at $700 have been executed for a crime they did not commit.

Bishop and Edlmann recently had gone hunting and were having a good chase. To give their dogs an opportunity for better work, they were unleashed. The sound of barking stopped and the owners finally found their dogs eating a sheep, freshly killed, on the Montgomery farm.

Now fox hounds will be pardoned if they slay an occasional chicken or cat, but the killing of a sheep is punishable only by death. So the five highly bred dogs were promptly killed.

Then it developed that the fox hounds had killed the sheep already dead; that the dog had been raised a short time before by other dogs, which escaped.

MEMORIAL BARES BALZAC SCHEME TO DODGE DEBTS

PARIS, Aug. 12.—The Passy house, which Balzac, the French novelist, lived in, was always his home. It was here that he wrote his novels. This was revealed by publication of the statement that a New York book seller, Gabriel, has donated $50,000 francs ($800) to save the Balzac house in Rue Raynouard, Passy.

The Liberte has raked up the past history about the Balzac home and the great author's lifetime there. It seems that, like other great writers, Balzac was sometimes rather troubled by his creditors. He liked to live on a large scale and could not always meet his bills.

It was then he retired for short periods to the quiet house in Passy, which had the advantages of two doors, one on the Rue Raynouard and another on the Rue Berton. When creditors attacked him on one street Balzac walked up the other.

DECLARES FRATS EDUCATIONAL IN FIGHT ON TAXES

College fraternities—long associated in the popular mind with the lighter side of university life—were described as sedate educational institutions by attorneys arguing yesterday before Judge Edmund K. Jarecki in the county court.

The lawyers represented fifteen Greek letter fraternities at the University of Chicago, Armour institute, and other colleges in the city. They were seeking to prevent sale of their property for 1924 and 1925 taxes under a provision exempting all educational, charitable, and religious institutions from taxing.

Attorney William P. MacCracken and the attorneys associated with him rely partly upon a Supreme court decision which declared that the Reynolds club at the University of Chicago was a part of the college and therefore exempt from taxes.

DEADLOCK WITH BELGIANS OVER FUNDING OF DEBT

Arbiters Forced to Seek
New Solution Today.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—(UP.)—Each side having rejected the first proposal put forward by the other, the American and Belgian debt commissions found themselves tonight in the position of having to seek new ground upon which to resume tomorrow the negotiations looking to the refunding of Belgium's war debt to the United States.

There was no official statement as to how wide a gulf had been developed in the presentation of the Belgian offer and the American counter proposal, but events of the day indicated that the commissions were quite far apart in their view points.

Not So Optimistic Now.

While there was no expression of pessimism at the conclusion of the day's conversations, neither was there the show of optimism so evident after the second day of the negotiations. The Americans will meet early tomorrow for further consideration of the situation and then will go into joint session again with the Belgians.

The principal sticking point in the brief period in which Belgium will be called upon to make no payments, either on the principal or interest of the debt—has been agreed on, leaving the interest rate, the annual payments on account of principal and the number of years in which the whole debt is to be retired, as the chief problems.

Department Helpless; Funds Lacking.

Chicago faces a serious situation unless there is a prompt settlement of the strike of 190 sewer cleaners and repair men who walked off their jobs in protest against establishment of a 5-day week, George E. McGrath, superintendent of sewers said yesterday.

The sewer men now receive $6 a day. The work week was shortened to five days to keep within the appropriation for sewer cleaning and repairs. Mr. McGrath explained. As an alternative the workmen demanded the regular union scale of $7 1/2 cents an hour for a 44-hour week.

Point of Disagreement.

This much is known, that the commissions are in somewhat sharp difference as to the fundamental basis of the negotiations, Belgium's capacity to pay.

Having rejected the Belgian proffer yesterday, the American commission submitted a counter proposal today, but the visitors found it unacceptable. After a general discussion, it was decided to have the conversations carried forward by small groups from each commission with Ambassadors de Carter and former Premier Theunis representing the visitors and Chairman Mellon and Senator Smoot, (Rep. Utah), the Americans. These four are directed to the office of Secretary Mellon for an hour, but so far as was made known, they came to no conclusion.

SLIDING SCALE
ON DEBT TO U. S.

ROME, Aug. 12.—(UP.)—Italy hopes the total of her war debts to the United States will be made a variable sum, somewhat similar to German reparations under the Dawes plan, according to statements in the press that apparently reflect the views of the government.

Giacomo de Martino, Italian ambassador in Washington, now on his way to Rome, will return after a short stay here to resume negotiations.

Ambassador de Martino will be prepared to present the thesis that Italy is ready to limit to the limit of her capacity, but that the matter should be considered in the light of possible participation of American capital in Italian private and public industrial enterprises.

U. S. Besieged by Narcotic Users Cut Off from Dope

Chicago narcotic addicts, financially unable to stand a jump in the price of morphine from $15 an ounce to $200 and desperately ill because of the consequent curtailment of their daily supplies of dope, will not be left in misery by the branches of government now engaged in breaking up the organized traffickers, it was announced yesterday.

Following reports of operations from dope centers that scores of addicts were suffering from deadly nausea, C. L. Converse, special intelligence agent of the department of internal revenue, sent out word that immediate medical treatment would be given all sick addicts who visit the intelligence unit office on the fifth floor of the federal building.

Offer Chance for Cure.

More than 100 addicts appeared for "shots" as soon as the relief offer became known. It was explained to them that there is no prospect for the return of low dope prices and ready deliveries and that if they will submit to a cure, special facilities will be offered them at various institutions available to federal officials here.

Col. L. G. Nutt, chief of all official anti-narcotic forces in the United States, reached Chicago to join in the investigation which thus far has resulted in the arrest of Col. Will Gray Beach, for many years reputed to be one of his closest friends, and three narcotic agents.

Col. Nutt's arrival was met with mystery and inquiries as to whether he plans a complete reorganization of the dope units in the middle west—particularly in Cincinnati, where the first dope scandal broke several months ago, and Louisville and Indianapolis, listed as "bad spots"—met no response.

Stormy When Aids Are Under Fire.

The national dope chief, however, has upon two previous occasions in Chicago revealed himself as a stormy boss when his subordinates were under fire. He first attracted attention in official federal circles in Chicago in 1923 when he forced the resignation of Dr. W. H. Sage, who then held the position occupied by Beach until his arrest and suspension Monday.

Denied Advance Knowledge.

In interviews given out in Washington following word of the arrest of Beach and his three aides Col. Nutt said he had not been told of any investigation of the narcotics department and knew nothing about it until he read of it in connection with the arrests.

The reported $250,000 dope cache of Col. Beach's, said to have been in a north side warehouse under Col. Beach's name, yesterday was revealed as a chautauque exhibit, formerly used by Col. Beach in his lectures against the drug evil.

It is said the specimens show the manner in which various narcotic drugs are derived. The exhibit appeared from government customs about four years ago, shortly after Col. Beach's assignment as narcotic chief here.

Reopen Dope Robbery Inquiry.

Revelations of the last few days have caused renewal of the investigation of the $100,000 dope robbery from the sixth floor of the federal warehouse at Pershing road and Wood streets a year ago. It was there that confiscated narcotics were stored by Col. Beach and his subordinates.

Knowledge of the disappearance of the fortune in dope never was made public until thieves raided the $3,000,000 booze hoard on the floor immediately under the narcotic stores several months after the discovery of the theft had been officially reported.

Patrick T. Roche, special intelligence agent, who has led the present investigation, during the day corrected reports that he had charged 200 narcotic agents with being corrupt. He said that his statement had referred to dope "agents" of the Gilbooley ring. He telegraphed Washington officials his denial of the statement attributed to him and said that his knowledge of corruption in the narcotics department was confined to his findings in the investigation here.

Doesn't Blame Rival Tong.

Tom Lee, secretary of the Chicago On Leagues, yesterday issued a statement in which he expressed the belief that the dope raids in the On Leong territory will not result in the breakup of the old feud with the Hip Sing tong.

"Our society has made an investigation of the federal and police raids," Lee said. "Our resentment is all for the police and federal agents who broke down doors and entered places other than those for which they held warrants. The members imposed upon expect to file suit for damages and in other ways act to prevent further invasion of their rights."

Sportsman-Romeo Fined, but His Point Is Won

Chester Levere, 55 year old Evanston roller skater, swimmer, and Romeo, was fined $5 yesterday for blacking the eye of James Ronald, when Ronald refused to vacate the former apartment of Mrs. Levere at 1008 Main street, at Mrs. Levere's request. Though Levere was fined, he won his point, as Ronald in court announced his removal to 904 Hinman street.

Fashions in Eggs and in Saving

Fashions are usually expensive but their rule is rigorous. In New York white eggs are the fashion. The people there like white eggs so much better than brown eggs that they pay fancy prices for them.

Of course, an egg is an egg, whatever its color. In the second week, they don't bother to learn whether a brown Leghorn lays a white egg or a Buff Cochins a brown egg. What they want is the egg.

It costs New York people a good many thousand dollars a year to follow the egg fashion. But the fashion that brings profit is the fashion of saving money and having a definite plan for doing it.

Is saving not fashionable?

There never was a time in the history of the world when so many people had so much money as Americans have now.

There never was a time when the savings banks had such large deposits.

There never were so many people with so many wants.

Of course it's fashionable to save. It's the first step toward satisfying those wants. Carefully planned saving makes acquisition easy.

If there is anything you want—and, of course, there is much—our Service Station can help you with your planning. After that you may prefer white eggs to brown, but the chances are you will get the eggs.

BOY DARTS INTO PATH OF TAXI; FATALLY INJURED

Two Deaths Raise 1925
Toll to 453.

Lawrence Morris, 7 years old, 1848 Mohawk street, was fatally injured last night when he darted into the path of a taxicab driven by Max Beckman, 2335 Thomas street, at La Salle street and Stockton drive. The boy died a short time later. Beckman was released by police when witnesses said the accident was unavoidable. The boy's death, with that of Fred Franson, 66 years old, 7427 St. Lawrence avenue, raised the Cook county motor death toll for the year to 453. A man and boy were hurt in other accidents during the day.

Driver Charged With Assault.
Franson was struck by an automobile driven by Patrick Ryan, 6620 Maryland avenue, at 65th street and E Lawrence avenue. Ryan was charged with assault with an automobile by police.

While crossing the street in front of 113 North Ashland avenue, Daniel Ryan Jr., 5 years old, 1526 Emerson avenue, was seriously injured by an automobile truck driven by Frank J. Kalar, 2003 Allport street.

Man Seriously Injured.
One man was probably fatally injured and five others suffered minor injuries when two automobiles collided at 16th street and Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, last night. One automobile was thrown from the street to the terrace and Steffen Andel, 32 years old, 43 Grove avenue, Stickney, who was waiting there for a bus was crushed against a tree.

According to the police, a car driven by Mervin Douglas, 126 Lathrop avenue, Forest Park, struck an automobile driven by C. W. Sperner, 4456 Race avenue.

Frank Viola, 60 years old, 751 South East avenue, Oak Park, was injured when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. W. H. Miller, 335 South East avenue, Oak Park, as he was crossing East avenue at Madison street.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the two hundred and twenty-fourth day of 1925.

Child Beating Costs Mother $100, Bootlegger $200

Mrs. Helen Bagack, 1210 South Sangamon street, was caught by Policemen Benson and Hogan of the Maxwell street station beating her 12 year old daughter yesterday. The daughter told the police her mother was drunk on moonshine purchased for $1 a pint from Mrs. Anna Barabouski, 1248 South Racine street. The child bought a pint for the policemen and later her mother was fined $100 for beating her and the bootlegger was fined $200 in Maxwell street court.

U. S. LABOR ASKS CHINESE TO TELL THEIR TROUBLES

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 12.—The interest of the American Federation of Labor in the Chinese situation was indicated today by the receipt of letters from William Green, the new president of the American organization, asking the Chinese leaders to send statements as to the causes of the trouble for publication in the Federationist, and also asking the names of the representatives of the Chinese labor unions.

Mr. Green said that the American labor leaders were not sure that the information regarding the Chinese labor situation published in America was dependable. He said it was of vital importance to constructive trade movements of the world to lend a helping hand to the Chinese unions.

Mr. Green said that the Federation had urged President Coolidge to move for revision of China's unequal treaties.

FATHER OF ONE SEEKS TRACE OF LOST AVIATORS

E. N. Gathercoal, a professor in the University of Illinois and father of Norris Gathercoal, one of three aviators missing since July 27, yesterday asked aid in the search for the missing flyers.

The father asked the coast guard and skippers of vessels plying the lake to watch for the wreck of an airplane. The other missing youths are Eugene Coutellier and Earle P. Banker. All three are of Chicago.

Charles H. Fries, a member of a Ford agency here and a friend of the boys, made a trip through Michigan towns on the flyers' route to Detroit, where they hoped to connect with Ford's new airplane enterprise. He found no clue, but distributed several thousand pamphlets showing pictures of the boys and also of the plane, which bore advertising of Fries' motor agency.

THE COURTS, MR. GREEN, AND OTHERS.

Samuel Gompers' successor in the presidency of the American Federation of Labor, William Green, announces that he will lead a movement to "curb the judiciary of the states and nation and bring back freedom to the American citizen."

Mr. Green's public utterances have to be discounted in the same sense that any politician's have to be. Mr. Green is necessarily a politician. He could not be elected to the office he holds if he were not. Mr. Gompers could not have held his long away if he had not been a politician and a very able one. And being a politician Mr. Green has to play politics, which means that he has to make issues when they don't make themselves, exaggerate evils or grievances, and make it seem important that Mr. Green should be and remain in office and leadership.

We understand all that and make the same allowance as we should if it were the chairman of the Republican or the Democratic national committee who spoke. Mr. Gompers made much of the issue of judicial usurpation. It was a stereotyped appeal. Mr. Green evidently thinks it is still useful and we don't doubt he knows what he is about.

We are sorry if it is still useful for political purposes, because it is an issue based not only on an exaggeration of facts but on their misinterpretation.

The curbing of the judiciary issue grew years ago out of the use of the injunction and contempt of court processes for the curbing of riotous strike methods. When Mr. Green asserts that this use was in many cases abused we agree with him, although the conditions created by militant and radical unions were often such as a community must defend itself from by drastic means when politics was paralyzing the normal means of police protection.

But if we are to concede that some proper check upon the unnecessary or excessive use of the contempt proceedings in industrial disputes should be adopted, we note that the most violent objection to such a "concession" to organized labor is likely to come from certain citizens of wealth who have been largely responsible for imposing legislation upon the country which extends the injunction and contempt method farther than it has ever been applied before. The padlock and related provisions of the Volstead act are ruthless breaches of constitutional guarantees and if sustained by the Supreme court will bring Mr. Green's campaign for the abolition of "government by injunction" an army of citizens who have little sympathy with any radical notion of weakening the courts, but who will not quietly submit to being deprived of protection from unreasonable invasions of their homes, automobile deprivation of their property, summary imprisonment as criminals without trial by jury.

The substantial gentlemen who financed the in-temperate and demoralizing experiment in prohibition, on the theory that teetotalism would be good for their employees and the working classes generally and ought to be forced on them by law, would do well to take this phase of the situation into consideration. It is the legislatures, and the feverish minorities which bully them, that need curing on behalf of freedom, rather than the courts. Mr. Green would better think that over, if he doesn't know it now. And young Mr. Rockefeller, Judge Gary and other would-be reformers by wholesale will do themselves a service if they realize that when organized fanaticism drives its charter over the right of private property and other private rights in its zeal for punishing the scofflaw, it opens the road to a train of consequences which young Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Gary, and other substantial citizens will not find pleasant. The passion which calls itself reform is no respecter of persons and a comfortable immunity to its more intransigent consequences will not continue indefinitely.

The injunction and contempt method of enforcing prohibition ignores constitutional rights of person and property and its establishment as legitimate will most seriously weaken respect for those rights. Neither men of property nor men without property can afford to condone that evil.

OUR RELATIONS WITH LATIN AMERICA.

A former American diplomatic agent in the Caribbean asserts that our influence in that region has waned because of the lack of continuity in the state department and the unfamiliarity of American officials with Central American affairs.

Our diplomacy will be inconsistent, vacillating and therefore misunderstood and distrusted until it is weighted by substantial interests. The trouble with it in the past has been that neither our government nor our people have had any sense of a substantial, continuing interest. Therefore our policy, such as we have had, or rather our course or course of action, has been formed by passing sentiment, the whims or theories of presidents or their secretaries of state, or the haphazard judgments of politically appointed amateur diplomats. But if we will take the trouble to study the possibilities of substantial profit both to ourselves and the Latin American peoples from a cultivation of financial and economic relations, we will soon have the foundations for a consistent and highly influential policy.

For example, the United States is without rubber and rubber is an essential of modern industry. On the other hand, Central America and parts of South America can produce rubber. We have the capital and initiative; they have the soil, climate, and labor. We ought to enter into treaties for the mutual development of rubber production. And there are many other resources of basic supply which could enter into a system of exploitation and exchange which would bind us and our sister republics of the western hemisphere, especially those of Mexico, the isthmus, the Caribbean and northern South America, in strong ties of mutual advantage.

Such a system would give coherence and continuity to our foreign policy in the western world and to our diplomatic relations with our neighbors. And it would be justified to them even more than to us, for it would benefit them more. Our capital and our enterprise would bring them wealth and stability and progress.

This would be rebuffed by sentimentalists as imperialism, but it would be an imperialism in which all the western nations could share. It would mean a great advance in civilization for our hemisphere and might avoid that system of jealous and bellows nationalism which has made peace and economic coöperation impossible in Europe in spite of the dire lesson of the late war.

SOMETHING TO THINK OVER.

Thirty-two per-cent of Chicago's milk supply is brought in from adjoining dairy regions by motor truck. That is a transportation development of recent years. It has the steam and electric roads worried. Milk is not the only thing which reaches the city from the country by truck.

The people in the northern Illinois counties where their Chicago market opened to them by the roads running into the city. Further down in the state it may be regarded wise to collect taxes and automobile fees in the city and spend the money in far away regions, giving the metropolitan area little or nothing of the improvements made by the state. The people of northern Illinois might ask themselves just what they get out of that policy, which is made effective by denial of equal representation to the metropolitan district.

The narrow roads are a handicap to the northern producer on the farm seeking a market in the city. They hurt his business. They limit his transportation and restrict him. The anti-Chicago program in Illinois politics and government is materially injurious to all the people of the adjoining counties.

THE BOLSHEVIKS PASS INSPECTION.

The bolsheviks are entertaining labor delegates from every country of Europe these days. Donald Day, THE TRIBUNE's correspondent at Riga, tells how they do it. He says the visitors are shown a model prison, a model farm, a model factory, a model children's home and the model Moscow apartment. After all that, seeing being believing, they are thoroughly convinced of the soundness of communism.

The labor delegates start, of course, with a pre-disposition in favor of communism. It is much easier to hoodwink them than an observer like Bertrand Russell, the English philosopher, who, though radically minded, was governed by a scientific detachment. Russell was not misled but, unfortunately, the rank and file of labor gives small attention to his findings while it believes that the glowing pictures of the promised land painted by its delegates are photographic correct.

The menace to the rest of Europe and America in this kind of proselytizing is in direct relation to the skill with which the bolsheviks are able to get their stuff across. It is well to remember, therefore, that the Russians have few equals at the game of putting up a false front. They have been doing it professionally at least since the days of the Great Catherine. Model cities, model roads and model garages were given her to impress on her official tours through her southern provinces. One reason that the last czar seldom suspected how badly the war was going for him was the fact that the territory back of the lines was as delightfully spruced up in anticipation of his occasional visits to the front. The generals knew what sector he would visit and they had time to get set for his coming.

The bolsheviks have inherited the art of passing hasty inspections and they have improved on it. No wonder the labor delegates come away with favorable impressions.

Editorial of the Day

"OFFICIAL MURDER" UNDER PROHIBITION.

[Part Wayne (Ind.) News-Sentinel.]
Our people will do well to give serious consideration to a recent comment of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which seems the essence of a too narrow vision in dealing with crime and which very ably analyzes that alarming state of mind now too generally prevalent in this country—the state of mind which considers all the institutions of human conduct as subsidiary and secondary to the matter of enforcing the law against lawless conduct. More than one-half of one per cent of the population.

Present day America is confronted by the really alarming spectacle of frequent domination by those who have one law and one moral. That law rests not upon the Mosaic code, the law of Justinian, or the institutions of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence. It is of recent human invention. It is the law which prohibits all beverages containing more than .5 per cent of alcohol. It has been law for five years. Indeed, the people whose moral code for public regulation is concerned almost solely with the prohibition of all beverages alcohol have no time for any other law, however well established, however ancient. The standard of personal responsibility, capacity for public service and morality in general is prohibition. Their requirement of a community is only one—that it be dry. Many of these zealots, while condemning the cold blooded murder of John Burroughs, are scoffing pleas for the extension of mercy to convicted murderers like Russell Scott. Their mental processes are strange.

But the fact that this is an obsession does not lessen the menace of its expression. Must we give sanction to "official murder" in order that honest prohibition be enforced? We think not. There are a few bigoted extremists, professional reformers, who think so, but we are convinced that the masses of the American people will resist the strong effort being made to discount all considerations not purely alcoholic. More often, before Volstead, and murder is still worse than bootlegging.

NOW COME.

"Do you know," observed an oil stock salesman after unveiling several hundred dollars' worth of securities, "I feel that I am not a right of the world." "You're right," snorted his partner. "How's that?" "The guy I sold that stock to was going to buy a used car with the money."—American Legion Weekly.

How to Keep Well.

Questions pertaining to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed, Dr. Evans will not make a diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases. MALTA FEVER.

WE are swamping old diseases for new ones. As malaria and typhoid fever fade away, Malta fever threatens to spread over the country to replace them. Malta fever is not a new disease, except that it is new to us. It got its name from the Isle of Malta—an island in the Mediterranean—where it has long been known. An army surgeon proved that in Malta it was a disease of goats and that people who drank goat's milk were liable to be infected.

The fever very greatly resembles typhoid. It starts slowly, mounts gradually, causes the spleen to enlarge, and lasts almost as long as typhoid does. It differs from typhoid in that it has a great tendency to relapse. In fact, a man with Malta fever may run a few weeks of fever, be free for a week or two, and then have fever again and go on this way for six months, or a year or longer.

While the general diagnosis in the first attack is typhoid fever, after a relapse or two the diagnosis is generally changed to malaria and quinine is poured over the sufferer. Holt and Reynolds made a search for Malta fever in the Mexican border, in Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona. They proved it present in goats and men from Brownsville, Texas, on the east; to Yuma, Arizona, on the west.

They found the disease in twelve of the fourteen counties investigated along the Rio Grande in Texas, in four counties in New Mexico, and two in Arizona. The evidence indicated that it is established in fifteen out of twenty-two border counties in these three states, and also in four counties north of the border counties. The disease has come and is coming out of Mexico into the United States. It has been in certain Texas counties for many years and in certain Arizona counties for fifteen years.

It has been proved that there is a relationship between the bacillus of contagious abortion in cows and the bacillus of Malta fever. Dr. Holt and Reynolds report that when Malta fever gets into a herd of goats, contagious abortion is generally noticed. Contagious abortion among goats is a disease which has been known to exist in the United States. A study of high grade cow milk, made in San Francisco, showed that it contained the bacillus of Malta fever.

claco, showed that much of it contained the bacillus of contagious abortion. Drinking this milk does not cause women to miscarry, but it may cause them to have Malta fever. Pasteurization, if universally used, is a sufficient protection to human users against the bacillus of Malta fever, whether the milk be from cows or goats.

Even at that, we are not happy over the thought that a disease of importance in Malta is getting established in this country.

VULCANIZING AND HEALTH.
M. W. writes: Is it injurious to a young man's health to work in a steam vulcanizing tire shop? I have heard the gum or rubber fumes were injurious to one's lungs.

Much depends on the shop, what is done there, and especially the ventilation. The danger in vulcanizing is due to the carbon disulphide used as a solvent. This substance is a fairly potent poison. Dr. Allen Hamilton, in "Industrial Poisons in the United States," says: "If people breathe air containing small amounts of carbon disulphide in one million, dizziness and confusion come on in a few hours. If the strength is increased it is wonderful how the Missouri just gets up when it feels like it and wanders all over the map? When we were boys in school, the old Missouri didn't empty into the Mississippi below St. Louis. But look at the darned thing now!"

I've seen an original or two myself including the "Song of the Meadow Lark" at the Illinois Central Museum of Fine Arts at Chicago and "September Morn" at Schlegelbauer's Buffet, set to mention sundry pieces by McCutcheon and Briggs. Well, the Missus allows, "Petruchio, when we go to New York this fall, I want you to see a work by Rawfahl, an original, the only one in this country if I am correctly informed, done under the direction of a surgeon." "Aha," says I, anxious to hold my own, "so that guy Rawfahl was another one of them dog fends?" Whereupon the Missus busted right out laughing and changed the subject to pancakes. Furthermore she refuses to tell me what she was laughing at. Now I leave it to you, what was she laughing at?

ANTIQUE.

The little moon, the silver moon
That tread upon the years,
I've hunted them, and caught them,
And kissed them through my tears...
For you a blue glass vase stands proud,
A lovely, living song—
But I... shall gather little moons
My whole life long...

A moon of gold near pyramids
A blue moon with a silver band
That fell into a sea;
A striped moon, a magic moon
To point a night-hawk's wing,
And kushki, once an old, old moon
That heard the pygmies sing...

The little moon, the foolish moon
Have trod upon my heart,
But I have hunted them for years
And loved each one apart;
An antique vase will make you proud,
A blue vase bring you joy—
But oh, I have a dearer thing...
The moon that shone on Troy...

ANGLO-SAXON IMMUNITY.
Chicago, Aug. 7.—Anglo-Saxons can commit the most cold blooded murders in Chicago and yet escape the noose. I can't help but think of the number of young Negro men who have been hanged recently—almost before they had time to notify their distant relatives.

POSTAL RATES.
Bucyrus, O., Aug. 6.—I took a bundle of 100 letters to the local postoffice in mail to a friend at Toledo, O. (24 miles). The package weighed just 3 ounces, and the postage, I was told, would be 1 cent. I can't help but think that the rate is too high. I can't help but think that the rate is too high.

APPOINT THE JUDGES.
Chicago, Aug. 6.—Continually talking about the criminal conditions that prevail in Chicago, without offering remedies to correct them is of no avail; it is like the doctor who would tell his patient that he is suffering from pneumonia, but would do nothing toward checking or curing the disease.

THE BARE BUTT.
Chicago, Aug. 6.—We read a letter in your paper suggesting that children should learn to swim first without clothing. I would not be in order to look out for other ways to effect the saving? A palliative has occurred to me, which would virtually obviate the necessity of using the 12 bill at all.

FOR A $250 BILL.
Chicago, Aug. 6.—Justly or unjustly, the 12 bill has earned for itself the name of "the bill that has been used to overcome in their effort to effect a considerable saving in the United States treasury printing costs.

TEST THEIR SANITY FIRST.
Neoga, Ill., Aug. 7.—Would it not be well in the interests of the taxpayer to have the hands first tried for their sanity, and if they should get by the experts with a sound mind put them on trial for their crime? It would be not only a big saving in expense, but also save the state the repeated humiliation through which we are now passing.

ALIENISTS TO EXAMINE.
Belvidere, Ill., Aug. 10.—Wouldn't it be interesting to have one set of alienists examine another set of the same species?

EXHAUST WHISTLES.
Chicago, Aug. 7.—Please start your good paper on the elimination of the infernal exhaust whistles now in use on most every truck in the city. These nerve-racking noise-makers have caused more people to be injured than all other devices known to mankind. Also they were outlawed Aug. 1, but we can expect no relief without some publicity.

MUFFLED BATHERS AND MUFFLED AUTOS.
Chicago, Aug. 10.—The police department issued new regulations a few weeks ago governing bathers—they were to wear three-quarter coats buttoned up while on the streets. Also, I believe, there is an ordinance in effect prohibiting cutting out mufflers on automobiles. Way pass such ordinances and issue such regulations when there is no attempt made to enforce them? F. DOUBTS RIGHT OF U. S. TO GIVE UP PHILIPPINES

Publisher Dubs Freedom
Agitation Futile.

BY GUY MCKINNEY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 12.—(Special)—George Fairchild, publisher and close friend of Gen. Leonard Wood, declared at White Court today that all talk of independence for the Philippines is utterly futile.

Mr. Fairchild, who has been in business in the Philippines and Hawaii for several years, brought a message of greeting to President Coolidge from Gen. Wood.

Doubts Power to Relinquish.

"I do not believe that under the constitution congress would have the right to relinquish territory once acquired," Mr. Fairchild said.

Republican leaders in Massachusetts are urging the President to recommend a reapportionment of national representatives, which the constitution provides may be done every 10 years.

Opposition has existed in the last two congresses because many leaders are opposed to enlarging the membership and increasing the delegation from southern states and western states of political tendencies. There has been no reapportionment since 1911.

The proposition is that the membership in the house be increased from 435 to 452. Under a reapportionment which has the largest support the ratio is 218,988 and no state loses a member.

Coal Operator Is Cautious.

Michael Gallagher, bituminous coal operator from Cleveland, O., was another visitor at White Court this afternoon. Mr. Gallagher on leaving stated that he had not mentioned the subject of coal with President Coolidge.

NEGRO SLAYER OF 2 IS SHOT TO DEATH BY MOB

Scobey, Miss., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Ridgely Townes, a gigantic Negro, who was being held in connection with the deaths of Jacob McMullen, 65, farmer, and his sister, Mrs. Mary Long, 70, was taken from Sheriff Frost here today by 75 men and shot to death.

The Negro was suffering from serious wounds inflicted with a shotgun by I. M. McMullen, 72, brother of the man killed, when he was taken from the sheriff by the mob, which formed shortly after the death of Mrs. Long, which occurred this afternoon during the funeral of Jacob McMullen.

Townes quarreled with his wife and pursued her into the McMullen farmhouse yesterday. During the melee he is alleged to have attacked McMullen and Mrs. Long.

Russia O. K.'s Gold Grant to Anglo-U. S. Syndicate

MOSCOW, Russia, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Lena Goldfields concession, provisionally granted to an Anglo-American syndicate by the Russian soviet concessions committee in May, was ratified today by the council of commissars.

CALLES FORBIDS STATE TAXATION OF MEXICO BANKS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Mexico City, Aug. 12.—The reconstruction policy of the government has taken a turn in the last few days which decidedly favors business and banking institutions, forming a pleasing contrast to the policy of hindrances of past years.

Gen. Calles has issued a decree defining taxation of banks. The statement that states have no power to tax banks has improved the status of the financial institutions in Mexico 100 per cent. The decree says:

"Neither the federal government nor the states can tax banks or corporations classified as banking, excepting mortgages and similar operations on which the tax shall not exceed one-fourth per cent of the total amount of the transactions, and shall be taxed once only. The cancellation of mortgages is nontaxable."

"The power to impose taxes on capital and operations of the income of banks belongs exclusively to the federal government to the complete exclusion of states and municipalities."

INCOME

"INCOME LOTS" at IVANHOE present wonderful opportunity! They offer the speculator who buys either to build for immediate profit or who holds for future increase in value, an almost unbelievable return on money invested.

They offer to the homebuilder all the advantages of a site in an ideally planned and developed community, plus the possibility of a steady income to pay the costs of his home.

IVANHOE "Income Lots" include: Business Property in the carefully zoned IVANHOE Business Center, where the activity and brightness of the Wilson Avenue and the 63d and Cottage Grove Business Districts will soon be duplicated, at prices as low as $1,750. Two-flat parcels in exclusive districts for $1,400. Apartment Sites near the I. C. Station—well located for investment purposes. All are offered on small initial payment and liberal terms. Prices include all improvements, such as concrete streets, cemented sidewalks, etc., installed and paid for.

Let Us Build an Income-Producing Home for You at IVANHOE!

Liberal financing aid, and conscientious, dependable building service is offered to IVANHOE owners by the IVANHOE REAL ESTATE IMPROVEMENT CORP. This organization, directed by Mr. Avery Brundage (who is widely known for his work in erecting many of Chicago's most prominent and beautiful buildings, as well as the 23d St. Viaduct on the South Shore Outer Drive), is prepared to build for you an attractive, well-constructed two-flat so that within a few months you can be living in one flat of your new home, while the rental revenue of the other flat pays interest and carrying charges on your whole investment, while present rent money may be applied to pay off the principal within a few years. All the time your property grows more and more in value!

Or the Improvement Corporation will finance and build a 3-family apartment or larger for you, the rents of which will yield a nice yearly income after all interest, taxes and payments have been met. Business buildings, as well as residences, will also be constructed under like liberal financial arrangement.

Talk over the building question with a representative at IVANHOE when you are there—this advisory service is gratis.

Building Activity Already Started in a Large Way

IVANHOE is a bee hive of activity. Business buildings are under construction. Apartments and flat buildings are going up swiftly. Several bungalows are already completed, and more than a dozen others have been started.

To those who have not seen IVANHOE since its opening less than 90 days ago, it seems hardly possible that this busy, bustling place can be the same. Now its smooth concrete streets, its miles of broad cement sidewalks, its ornamental lights and street markers, its hundreds of hardy young trees, its well-equipped community playgrounds, and its many other finished features, speak eloquently of a completed new city, and the extensive building operations heighten that impression.

Your opportunity in the big Second Unit of IVANHOE (now selling) is going fast. Why not accept our invitation to make an Inspection Tour before it is too late? Go next Sunday and find out for yourself how much profit and pleasure IVANHOE may hold for you. The coupon will secure for you a reservation on our I. C. Special Train without obligation.

BOLSHEVIKS FREE WITH ALIBIS AS PROMISES FAIL

Lay Ills to Locked Purse of United States.

BY DONALD DAY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
RIGA, Latvia, Aug. 12.—Members of European trade unions who are now visiting Russia are being taken on personally conducted tours, thereby failing to get a real insight into actual conditions in Russia. They are shown a few hand-picked factories and other enterprises, but seldom are they shown anything constructive that has been accomplished by the soviet. Some of the bolsheviks' own followers are using official lassitude.

But the bolsheviks are ready to explain the commercial and industrial stagnation in Russia to their comrades from abroad. First their excuse was that Russia was suffering from an economic blockade. But this blockade was lifted and foreign countries offered Russia all of the goods she needed for cash on delivery. Then the soviet government discovered it could not do a regular business without diplomatic connections, so they claimed there was a diplomatic blockade.

Soviet Promises Fail.
The countries of Europe recognized Russia and still things seemed to flourish. But the soviet government had promised the workers of England, Germany, France, Sweden, Norway, and Italy that if they put enough pressure upon their governments and forced the recognition of Russia then huge orders would be forthcoming, unemployment would cease, Russian goods would flood the European markets and food would get cheaper, and the reconstruction of Russia and of Europe would begin.

The visiting delegates are inquiring about these promises in Moscow, but the ever ready communist still has another excuse. Right now, according to Commissar Rykov, Russia is facing a blockade of capital which refuses to enter Russia to make investments. Because all of the European countries owe America money, Rykov states that the United States is putting pressure on Europe to prevent any credits being given to Russia. America, he continues, has half of the gold of the world and is refusing to invest any of it in Russia despite the fact that the soviet government is offering concessions of untold natural unexploited riches to the Americans.

U. S. La. Chief Voe.
So the chief enemy of the soviet government and of the world revolution is at present the United States and the delegates are being urged to go back home and agitate against America. This agitation will include the development of propaganda against repaying Europe's debt to America and an appeal to the workingman of the United States to help his European brother by coming out in favor of cancellation of the debts, credits to Europe, and especially credits to Russia.

The Moscow bolshevik is very contemptuous of the American workingman. The fact that the union man in America quite often owns his own automobile, shares in the company he is working for, and owns the home he is living in, stamps him as being a "small bourgeois." The American worker is said to be afraid of risking his possessions in a class war and so is a traitor to the European workingman and the bolshevik. The fact that he dresses up on Sunday and goes to church is something too awful to con-

DAVISON PUT AT HEAD OF NATIONAL BODY TO FIGHT CRIME EPIDEMIC

New York, Aug. 12.—[Special.]—The National Crime commission, which purposes to decrease crimes of violence throughout the country by means of education and legislation, was organized today in the offices of Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation.

F. Trubee Davison, assemblyman from Nassau, L. I., was elected chairman, although he announced he probably would be forced to resign in a few months on account of his legislative duties.

No other officers were named. Mr. Davison was empowered to designate a finance committee chairman and an executive committee which would include members from different states. The organization has approximately 100 members, but expects to increase the number to several thousand.

At his home tonight Mr. Gary refused to say whether he had been asked to accept the chairmanship of the commission. He said he thought he "ought not to say anything about that." He added: "I could not accept the position under any circumstances. It requires a much younger man than I am. It was I who suggested that Mr. Davison be made chairman."

template, for it marks his absolute degeneracy into a "wage slave."

The fact that European countries are permitting their workers to visit Russia and get filled of communist ideas is a dangerous sign. The visiting delegations are not getting their eyes opened as some diplomats foolishly hope. Instead, like Hindu fanatics who gaze at a red hot brick until it blinds them, they are also being blinded by the red Utopia of Russia.

Perils U. S. Debts.
The delegations are returning to their own countries primed for agitation against America as well as the "capitalistic government" of their own country. Organized labor in Europe is gradually coming around to the bolshevik way of thinking and if once the labor federations in Europe affiliate with Moscow then the United States had better prepare to bid her loans and investments in Europe "good-by."

The above Moscow tactics which I have described may be considered as another paragraph in Moscow's plan to force the United States to recognize the bolshevik government of Russia.

JUDGE HOPKINS HITS AT CRITICS; CITES RECORDS

Chief Justice Jacob H. Hopkins of the Criminal court yesterday hit back at attackers who had quoted him as being despondent over the condition of the Criminal court docket, and who had compared his record unfavorably with the records of other chief justices, notably that made by Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley two terms ago.

"There is no crisis in the Criminal courts," said Judge Hopkins, "nor am I worried over the condition of the docket. We have many indictments pending, more than we would like; but an honest inspection of the records will show that during my term we have disposed of more indictments than during the term of any other chief justice for the past four years, except Chief Justice Scanlan, during whose term a great number of cases were disposed of by striking them off.

Figures Incomplete.
"The figures quoted in attacking my record are only part of the statistics. To be fair, they should all be quoted, and the figures will speak for themselves."

The statistics cited by Judge Hopkins were as follows: Judge Hopkins' records are for eleven months only; the others for the full year:

	Chief Justice	Scanlan	McKinley	Hopkins
Indictments pending Aug. 1, 1924	1,448	945	870	1,300
Indictments returned	5,479	2,309	2,614	3,392
Defendants arraigned	5,223	1,073	2,619	3,360
Indictments disposed of	4,383	2,676	2,304	3,331
Sent to prison	463	339	381	450
Sent to reformatory	206	141	128	339
Sent to reformatory	500	351	386	628
Sent to jail	117	97	94	81
Tot. to institutions	1,466	928	1,007	1,306
Remanded to death	3	0	1	3

Compare Well.
"I think that an inspection of these figures, in particular those pertaining to defendants arraigned, indictments disposed of, and to the number of those sent to penal institutions," said Judge Hopkins, "will convince any one that my eleven months in office will compare favorably to the full year of any of my immediate predecessors."

Municipal Judge Lyle again occupied the law enforcement spotlight yesterday when his campaign of high bonds for gunmen received the approval of the Illinois Bankers' association. The association wrote congratulating the judge.

14 GOVERNORS, VICTIMS URGE M'CRAY PARDON

Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Special.—Governors of fourteen states, seven of the jurors who convicted him and thirty of the bankers who were victims of his fraudulent transactions, joined with others today in appealing to Attorney General Sargent for his recommendation of a pardon for Warren T. McCray, former governor of Indiana.

Not in recent years has such a widespread appeal been made for the release of a federal prisoner. The attorney general, according to those who attended the conference, appeared to be deeply impressed by the record of McCray's long career of service in the state of Indiana. An indictment is still pending against McCray in Indiana, but Mr. Osborn assured the attorney general it was his belief that the present federal officials in that state would be willing to nolle prosequere these charges and permit the restoration of Mr. McCray's constitutional rights.

Wealth and Appreciation

While many Windermere guests are wealthy, it is not this, so much as an appreciation of calm hospitality and good living, which brings them here. Ladies!

the eyes have it

The wiles of femininity are so much more subtle and so much more intimate when eyes are eloquent, enticing and sparkling.

Eyes should radiate good health, good fun. Eyes should lure with the mystery of woman's understanding and charm.

Do Not Neglect Your Eyes

Do you really appreciate the value of good looking eyes? Surely. But do not make the foolish mistake of attempting to keep your eyes clear and bright with pencil or with paint.

Mademoiselle, your eyes must be cleansed, cooled—must have the tonic of IRIS. As well try to have good teeth without a dentifice as to hope for attractive eyes without IRIS.

IRIS is such a sensible toiletrie. Its cooling witch hazel and menthol, its healing boric and camphor, its refreshing rose water all aid so much and help so much.

Of course there is nothing harmful in IRIS. Optical specialists would not suggest its daily use were it not healthful and wholesome. Many prudent mothers are teaching children its healthful habit.

We urge you to wash away the cobwebs of the brain and the more material grime of the streets with IRIS.

Let this gentle tonic clear away the strain of a day's business or the ravages of a day in city or social life. Use IRIS faithfully for just one week. It will make this a brighter world for you.

DAINTY ANN PENNINGTON bright dancing star of Zig-zag's Folies says: "Iris is so refreshing, so invigorating that I have learned to use it every morning, every night and before every performance of the Folies. It certainly has made my eyes clearer and brighter than they ever were before."

Try this Simple Exercise for Just One Enlightening Week:

FILL the eye cup half full of IRIS, hold it over your opened eye and slowly look from left to right several times. Truly one week of this exercise will make your eyes feel so much more alive—they also will look brighter and will have so much more sparkle.

The Superior Oil Burner

Complete Installation With 250 Gallon Tanks Ready to Operate
Convenient Terms

$250

An oil burner that keeps your home as warm as you like regardless of weather conditions—that will not fail you in time of storms and sub-zero cold—that is absolutely safe—so simple that a child can give it all the attention it needs—and the price of which is easily within the reach of any home, store or apartment building owner.

The SUPERIOR OIL BURNER is all this—an oil burner that is as near perfection as ingenuity has so far been able to devise—an oil burner that gives superior heating service in every sense of the word.

The SUPERIOR is in a class by itself—it sets its own standard of perfect performance.

In the SUPERIOR every objectionable feature that has marked the development of oil burners has been completely eliminated. It is the short cut method of obtaining the maximum heat from oil—a method so simple that one wonders why it was not adopted in the construction of the very first oil burner made. The very simplicity of its construction so greatly reduces the cost of manufacture as to make it available for every home owner who now uses coal for fuel.

The Superior Oil Burner depends upon no complicated mechanism or outside agency such as electricity, gas or water for its operation. Its outstanding points of superiority may be stated in a very few words:

No Gas—No Electricity—No Water 100 Per Cent Combustion

No Motor—No Fan—No Noise
No Carbon—No Smoke—No Ashes
No Machinery—Nothing to Get Out of Order

Even Heat Regardless of Weather
No Danger—Cannot Injure
Your Heating System

A Child Can Operate It

Safeguarded by Underwriters Approved Control.

4th Successful Season—Hundreds of Satisfied Owners

Few who have given serious consideration to the installation of an oil burner have failed to become enthusiasts over the many advantages of oil over coal as a fuel. For it is an admitted fact that oil will soon be the universal fuel. It produces a hotter flame. It is easier controlled. There are no ashes to handle. It does away with coal bins and makes possible a clean, sanitary basement. The enthusiasm of many who investigate oil burner installation is often chilled by the high cost. With all of the advantages of oil, an investment of from $500 to $1,000 for an oil burner seems to them excessive.

That is one of the reasons why hundreds have installed the SUPERIOR. It has all the advantages of oil as a fuel. It does everything that any oil burner can do regardless of cost—and the price is only $250 for a complete installation including BURNER, Connections and 250 Gallon Tanks.

Perfect Vaporization

Do not confuse the SUPERIOR with the old style type of "gravity" burner which merely makes a smoky flame and must be frequently cleaned of carbon. The SUPERIOR vaporizes the oil, automatically mixes the gas thus formed with just the right amount of air, thereby producing a perfect combustible gas which burns with a clear, steady flame, leaving absolutely no carbon or soot. Costs you nothing to have Engineers examine your heating system.

Prepare Now for Cold Weather

Let us install a SUPERIOR for you NOW before cold weather sets in. Enjoy its benefits during the cool autumn days—you'll find it a great fuel saver. We will install a Superior Oil Burner for you on a reasonable deposit, the balance to be paid on terms convenient to anyone who is now burning hard or soft coal or coke in any hot air, hot water or steam heating plant.

Guaranteed We guarantee that the Superior Oil Burner will heat your home better, maintain a more even heat, and give you better all-around satisfaction than you have ever been able to obtain from burning coal or coke. PARTS GUARANTEED THREE YEARS.

DEALERS We have a most attractive proposition to submit to you. Mail the coupon and let us show you what an agency for the Superior Oil Burner means to you. No service calls with this burner.

Mail the Coupon

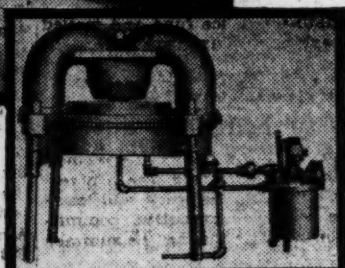

Let us give you all the facts about the "SUPERIOR"—the oil burner that is revolutionizing the oil burner industry. Let us send you names and addresses of home owners who have installed the SUPERIOR and who would not be without it. Let us show you how you, too, can solve your heating problem, easily and most economically. Mailing the coupon, of course, involves no obligation on your part. Or call for demonstration.

Krenn & Dato increase sales from $400,000 to $6,000,000 in one year with Chicago Tribune advertising as the principal sales-building agent

WE are accustomed to reading the stories of great industries that started in a back-yard: Ford in his little machine shop, Wrigley making gum in a smoky back room; Marshall Field in his modest one-story dry goods emporium.

These are the romances of commerce—the stories of great successes through long years of planning and struggling and building.

But here is a new kind of commercial romance—the story of a business that leaped over the back-room stage and accomplished in one year what it has taken men a life-time to do. Vision and courage were required here, too, but with them a realization of the power available in commerce now which the generations before us did not have.

This enterprise does not depend upon a new product which—like radio—won over-night a tremendous, overwhelming public interest. For this product has been on the market in America since old man Knickerbocker invested a jug of indifferent rum—or was it a string of beads?—before subdividing Manhattan Island.

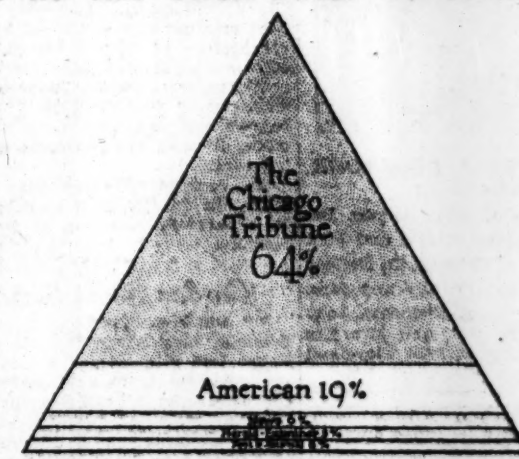

Proportion of financial and real estate advertising carried by each Chicago newspaper in August 1924.

More than a year passed and still Krenn & Dato meant comparatively little in the real estate field. But Krenn & Dato was fortunate in having the confidence and the help of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick. There were no limitations on the amount of capital back of the firm except that the money should be spent with profit to the enterprise.

There is no need to tell Chicago people that Krenn & Dato sell real estate. Chicago knows it. And yet three years ago the firm was just getting its modest start. It began to do business in Chicago in the summer of 1922.

In 1923—the first full year of the firm—the volume of business was $400,000. Late in 1923, Krenn & Dato began to advertise in The Tribune. Using Tribune space as the back-bone of their advertising program, the sales leaped from $400,000 in 1923 to $6,000,000 in 1924. New departments were organized and as they were adequately advertised in The Tribune, they became almost immediately profitable.

How Krenn & Dato divided lines among Chicago newspapers in 1924.

Before the advertising began, there were 18 persons selling real estate. Now the number has grown to 560 salesmen. The company now has seven active departments:

1. Co-operative Apartments
2. Renting
3. Sales and Leases
4. Bond Department
5. Insurance
6. Acreage
7. Bungalows and Garages

Krenn & Dato have their own construction organization for the building of sewers, sidewalks and paving—and for the care and maintenance of their properties.

The following figures show how Krenn & Dato used The Tribune as the principal agent in building this great organization:

1924 Lineage in Chicago Newspapers
	DAILY	SUNDAY	TOTAL
Tribune	41,092	47,513	88,605
Herald-Examiner	4,456	3,086	7,542
News	8,291
Post	4,969
American	27,182
Journal	1,100
Total in Tribune			88,605
Total in 5 other newspapers			49,076

It is because of results such as Krenn & Dato have obtained that real estate and financial advertisers concentrate their advertising in The Chicago Tribune. There is nothing intangible about these amazing gains in sales volume. If you are interested in reaching this prosperous market of home builders and investors, a Tribune man will be glad to call. He has a story that will interest you.

Offerings on the day absorbed by commission but later there was heavy buying many in the trade attributed bull, which absorbed the surplus and brought about a bump from the bottom to a high with the finish at the top gain of 4½¢.

The September-December widened to 2½¢ at the last around 1¢ early. December and May was up 2½¢. Corn and ½¢ lower, with September.

An eastern group of traders Jesse Livermore is credited with 1,000,000 bu. according to the wheat pit. Tuesday, in a break the market, they are sold 5,000,000 bu. with a drop from $1.52½ to $1.51½. Year selling was continued.

Strong local interests, headed by Arthur W. Cutten, believe in wheat at present said to have been active in the short sales by the eastern.

September Wheat Tight

A good part of the buying was in the September, which up quickly. The heavy move grain out of here to the a prospective decrease of 1,000,000 bu. in stocks for the a continued falling off in the movement, is attracting attention. No. 2 hard winter at $2.15 is selling at $2.15 over September market, and outside markets at outbid Chicago downstate for during the day. Export business light, with sales of about 100,000 bu. in all position, partly domestic mixed winter.

Strength in Liverpool, which 1½¢, was responsible for buying there early. Wet weather United Kingdom and short made the bulge there. Winnipeg 30½¢ for the day, although ports from the Canadian north more favorable, and R. O. C. American expert, estimated the the three provinces at 250,000, the same as the Canadian government.

September Corn Break

Heavy selling of September local operators and commission was responsible for a break in that delivery, with stop loss caught on the way down. Illinois were estimated to have a than 200,000 bu. cash corn to the movement to terminal market increased, with local arrivals of December received good support though declining 2½¢ from the date, as compiled by the Price Grain Reporter, is 12,876,000, a 927,000 last year. HEAVY BUYING BY CHICAGO TRADER ADVANCES WHEAT

By CHARLES MICHAELS.

Selling of wheat futures by houses with eastern interests ran its course after a break of 3 1/4c from the early high point on the September delivery, the latter touching $1.58 1/4 at the bottom. Offerings on the decline were absorbed by commission houses, many in the trade attributed to a local bull, which absorbed the surplus in the pit and brought about a bulge of 5 1/4c from the bottom to a high of $1.64 1/4, with the finish at the top at a net gain of 4 1/4c.

The September-December wheat spread widened to 2 1/2c at the last against around 2 1/4c in December. September led, with a drop of 1/4c. Corn was weak and 1/4c lower, with September leading. Oats gained 1/4c and rye 1/4c. An eastern group of traders headed by James Livermore is credited with selling 1,000,000 bu. according to the group of the wheat pit. Tuesday, in an effort to break the market, they are said to have sold 5,000,000 bu. with a drop in prices from $1.62 1/2 to $1.57 1/2. Yesterday the selling was continued.

Strong local interests, presumably headed by Arthur W. Cutten, who is a believer in wheat at present prices, are said to have been active in absorbing the short sales by the easterners.

September Wheat Tightens.
A good part of the buying yesterday was in the September, which tightened quickly. The heavy movement of grain out of here to the east, with prospective decrease of more than 50,000 bu. in stocks for the week with a continued falling off in the country movement, is attracting attention. Ordinary No. 2 hard winter at Kansas City is selling at 56c over September in that market, and outside markets and the grain market Chicago downstate for cash grain during the day. Export business continues light, with sales of around 250,000 bu. in all positions, partly domestic hard and mixed winter.

Strength in Liverpool, which was up 1 1/4c, was responsible for buying of futures here early. Wet weather in the United Kingdom and short covering made the bulge there. Winnipeg gained 1/4c for the day, although crop reports from the Canadian northwest were more favorable, and R. O. Cromwell, an American expert, estimated the yield of the three provinces at 250,000,000 bu., or the same as the Canadian government.

September Corn Breaks.
Heavy selling of September corn by local operators and commission houses was responsible for a break of 4 1/4c in that delivery, with stop loss orders caught on the way down. Illinois and Iowa were estimated to have sold more than 200,000 bu. cash corn to arrive, and the movement to terminal markets has increased, with local arrivals of 211 cars. December received good support, although declining 1/4c from the early high in sympathy with the September. A little export business was put through in oats at the seaboard, with claims of sales of as high as 250,000 bu.

Russia was reported as offering rye to the continent in fairly liberal quantities, and some business has been put through of late. Demand for American rye was reported slow at the seaboard, with sales of 100,000 bu.

Provision Market Unsettled.
Nearby deliveries of lard were sold by commission houses on the weakness in lard, while the deferred futures received good support, and at the close prices were 5 1/2c lower to 2 1/2c higher. Ribs gained 7 1/2c and bellies 10c. Packing of hogs in the west for the season to date, as compiled by the Price Current Grain Reporter, is 12,676,000, against 17,127,000 last year. Prices are as follows:

at $30,000,000 bu, or practically the same as the present government returns. He claims that the government has been grossly overrated. Last year the three provinces raised 24,000,000 bu.

At Kansas the last week came a heavy rain to help the corn crop in many sections. According to the official report of the U. S. weather bureau, the corn crop in the late corn belt was improved in the water part of the state, but the bulk of the corn there was still in the dry stage. The corn in the water part. Fifty to 90 per cent cannot recover much with favorable weather from now on. The corn in the dry part of the state is in poor condition. In the water part of corn showed mixed conditions. In the western and west central Illinois and Indiana the corn crop was in the water part. It was greatly benefited by rain, and showed a good crop. The Missouri corn. Moisture was also abundant.

In a report to Jackson Brothers & Co., of St. Louis, Mo., George C. Bryant said that the corn crop in the water part of the state was in the water part. The corn in the water

ITALA LANDAULET

Willys-Knight Coupe
The prospective buyer who is looking for a mechanical smooth running 4 cylinder car will find this one very attractive. It is constructed in velour and has excellent paint, which includes front and rear fenders, motorometer, and snubbers.

Oldsmobile 6 Coach
One of the late Oldsmobile models has enjoyed wide popularity among buyers of moderate priced cars. It has a proven far and is in excellent condition. It has the standard windshield, front and rear fenders, disc wheels, fire ball motor and rear bumpers, motorometer

Wills Ste. Cl. Brough

This particular car will appeal to a motorist buyer who takes more than an interest in the little conveniences. A motorometer on the dash enables the driver to check on the engine at any time. A button on the steering wheel controls the bright lights. An electric cigar lighter will reach to the rear seat and an ash tray is handy on the instrument board. The windshield wiper is controlled by the driver's hand. The outside air is excellent. Five cord tires and disc front and rear bumpers, standard. Windshield and automatic wipers are complete equipment.

Chevrolet Coupe.

For the salesman or professional man
needing economical transportation,
Hupmobile's Overland is worth inspection.
The steering wheel is a special locking type of extra size. Paint and tires are equipped with motometer, front bumper windshield visor.

Hupmobile Sport Tourer
Built for the man who wants a deluxe car with sharp lines, it is available on the standard body style, nickel lamps and radiator, individual and steps, motometer with bat radio, automatic sequence 3 disc wheels and rear bumper, and spotlight.

COO

BADGER G. O. P.
PICKS WILCOX
FOR BOB'S TOOOust Progressive
Lenroot Plea.

Whitish, Wis., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Wilcox of Eau Claire was nominated by the Republican party in state convention here tonight for the office of United States senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Follette on the fourth ballot of convention. The nomination was unanimous after W. L. Pieplow of Milwaukee threw his vote of 183 to count.

The candidacy of Mr. Wilcox, a law course through the convention, led having at one time been Dean H. L. Russell of the agricultural college of the University of Wisconsin who withdrew after stating through representative that he was unable to make the race.

Blanchard Quits Contest.
The fourth and first formal ballot gave Mr. Wilcox 239; F. E. Moore, 53; W. L. Pieplow, 183; W. L. Russell, 12; scattered, 59.

Early in the balloting a boom in some pretensions was started by George W. Blanchard of Superior, permanent chairman of the convention, but after receiving a sizable vote withdrew, leaving the convention to Wilcox and Pieplow. From time on the vote for Wilcox kept mounting.

Wilcox will be the Coolidge Republican candidate. The late senator, already was a candidate for the leadership of the La Follette Progressive group.

Earlier in the day Senator Lenroot, [Wis.] voiced an appeal to main voters to "see that no hostile to President Coolidge" about by them to the United States.

Assails Progressive Chiefs.
Mr. Lenroot assailed the leaders of the "so-called progressive administration" of Wisconsin as radicals who assumed their administration of state affairs as a dictatorship.

Also described the "progressive administration" as the triumvirate at work, which determined who the voters shall vote for, adding that member of this triumvirate did nothing he could last year to destroy the Republican party.

"Common honesty and decency," Mr. Lenroot said, "lead these gentlemen to keep the Republican primary ballot, and wish to become candidates for to do so under the name of the party or in the independent column."

"There is a clearly defined line between these radical leaders in Wisconsin and Republicans. They divide our people into groups and en, arraying groups against and chase against class."

Sees Their Apparent Block.
"In the national field they would destroy our constitution and make gross supreme with power to every right of religious and civil liberty."

"The triumvirate has decided the will of the people. One of them, the heir-appare to the throne, is elected to the this year, another of them elected to the senate next year, the third shall be elected governor next year, and they expect to govern Wisconsin will carry their orders. We shall see."

Mention of the name of Calver by speakers brought down to their feet, wildly cheering.

Wilcox Born in Eau Claire.
Mr. Wilcox, was born in Eau Claire, June 30, 1873. He was graduated from high school there in 1890. In school, he worked at his occupations to earn his own living. After graduation, obtained employment as a law office, where he taught shorthand and typewriting.

Out of his earnings Mr. Wilcox money enough to go to Cornell university, from which he was graduated in 1897. He began to practice law in that year, and has been continuously engaged in practice since that date. He served for the Wisconsin state senate, 1911. Last year he was elected president of the Wisconsin State association. He is married and has a daughter and a son. He has been in public and civic affairs during his professional life.

Wheeler to Aid Young Bur.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, arriving here from California, announced he would support the campaign for Robert Wilcox in his campaign to succeed Mr. Follette from Wisconsin.
